13.1 Fees for Courses of Study

- 13.1.1 The power of Council under the Charter to determine the scale of fees payable for courses of study offered by the University is hereby delegated to the Vice-Chancellor, who may delegate further at their discretion. The scale of fees in relation to each course will be reported annually to Council and to Senate.
- 13.1.2 The tuition fee charged for a course of study will be deemed to include all fees for registration, tuition, examination, and graduation, and for membership of the Cranfield Students' Association and of the Alumni Association as appropriate.
- 13.1.3 The fee for the first year of a course of study will be payable in advance on initial registration, and, if the course extends beyond one year, further fees will be payable annually in advance thereafter.
- 13.1.4 Where the period of registration of a student is extended beyond that normally required for the course of study, an additional fee calculated on a pro-rata basis for the period concerned will be payable; provided that the fee may be waived if the Pro-Vice-Chancellor concerned so directs.
- 13.1.5 Where a student transfers from one course to another, the tuition fee payable will be an amalgam of the fees for each course calculated on a pro-rata basis.
- 13.1.6 Where the registration of a student is suspended, no fee will be payable for the period of suspension. The pro-rata element of any fee already paid relating to the period of suspension will be credited against any further payments due.

13.2 Other charges

- 13.2.1 Charges incurred by a student will be payable as follows:
- a. accommodation – as prescribed in the local rules relating to the accommodation concerned;
 - b. services rendered or goods supplied by the University – on receipt;
 - c. any fine imposed for the breach of any Regulation of Law of the University – immediately the fine is imposed.

13.3 Non-payment of Fees and Charges

- 13.3.1 Where payment of fees and charges is not made when due, the University may charge interest on any outstanding sum at the National Westminster Bank base rate plus 4%. Non-payment of fees and charges relating to a specific course of study will also, after due warning, constitute sufficient reason for termination of a student's registration. Non-payment of fees and charges relating to accommodation and any other goods or services provided will also, after due warning, constitute sufficient reason for appropriate action by the University to recover the accommodation, and/or cease provision of relevant goods or services.

In both cases the University will pursue appropriate legal action to recover the debt if required.

13.3.2 Where a person is in debt to the University at the end of their period of study and that debt involves non-payment of fees and charges relating to a specific course of study, no formal notification will be issued as to the results of any examinations or other assessments undertaken by that person relating to the award or non-award of a Degree or other academic distinction of the University. Where details of results are sought by a person in debt in relation to fees and charges relating to a specific course, the information supplied will not take the form of an official transcript or an official reference, and it will clearly state that the student is a debtor to the University. In addition, debtors will not be entitled to graduate, nor to receive any Degree certificate, until all debts relating to the course are discharged.

13.4 Refund of fees and charges

13.4.1 A student who withdraws from his course of study, or whose registration is terminated before its conclusion, will:

- a. continue to be liable for all fees and charges already due and not entitled to a refund of any fees or charges already paid; and
- b. if he is in receipt of any form of grant or monetary assistance from the University, be liable to repay the proportion of such monies paid or credited to him up to the date of cessation of studies as may relate to a period subsequent to that cessation.

Ordinance 20 General Provisions

20.1 Application

20.1.1 This Ordinance contains general provisions applicable to all Ordinances contained in Part B.

20.2 Representation and accompaniment

20.2.1 Where provided for under the Ordinances a member of staff will have the right to be accompanied at a hearing by a Trade Union Representative or Workplace Colleague of their reasonable choice. The member of staff must make all arrangements for their own representation or accompaniment where they wish to exercise that right.

20.2.2 If the Trade Union Representative or Workplace Colleague is not available to attend at the time proposed for the hearing, then the member of staff may propose an alternative time for the hearing to take place. The proposed alternative time must be reasonable and must be within 5 working days of the initial date of the hearing.

20.2.3 At a hearing, the Trade Union Representative or Workplace Colleague accompanying the member of staff is entitled to put the member of staff's case, to sum up the case, to respond on the member of staff's behalf to any view expressed at the hearing, and to confer with the member of staff. The Trade Union Representative or Workplace Colleague may request brief adjournments to discuss and give advice to the member of staff.

20.2.4 The Trade Union Representative or Workplace Colleague does not have the right to answer questions on behalf of the member of staff, should not address the hearing if the member of staff does not wish it, and should not act in a way that prevents the University from explaining its case or prevents another person at the hearing from making their contribution to it.

20.2.5 A member of staff chosen to accompany another to a hearing will be entitled to take paid time off during the hours to attend that hearing.

20.3 Witnesses

20.3.1 Members of staff who are witnesses in relation to any investigation or proceedings under the Ordinances may be required to provide or affirm written statements. Such statements will normally be viewed by relevant parties, including the member(s) of staff against whom allegations are made.

20.3.2 It may be appropriate in some circumstances for the identity of a witness or a witness statement to be kept confidential. Where this is the case relevant parties will be given as much information as possible while maintaining confidentiality.

20.4 Recording of hearings and meetings

20.4.1 The electronic recording of hearings and meetings is not normally permissible. In exceptional circumstances, for example where the member of staff has particular needs due to a disability, electronic recording may be allowed, subject to the prior written agreement of the chair of the proceedings.

20.4.2 A note-taker, normally a member of People and Culture, may attend hearings and meetings. Where notes are taken during a hearing or meeting, such notes will normally be a summary of key points of discussion rather than a verbatim record.

20.5 Confidentiality

20.5.1 Unless notified to the contrary, members of staff must treat as confidential any information communicated to them in connection with the procedures outlined in these Ordinances.

20.6 Non attendance

20.6.1 Members of staff are required to take all reasonable steps to attend a meeting or hearing convened under these Ordinances. Failure to attend a meeting or hearing may be treated as misconduct.

20.6.2 If a member of staff does not attend a meeting or hearing without good reason, the meeting or hearing may proceed in their absence. Normally, however, the meeting or hearing will be adjourned to enable contact to be made with the member of staff to ascertain the cause of their absence, unless the meeting or hearing has already been adjourned due to previous absence without good reason.

20.6.3 Where a member of staff is persistently unable or unwilling to attend a meeting or hearing, a decision will normally be made in their absence on the evidence available. In such circumstances the chair will seek to ascertain via People and Culture whether there are compelling grounds for a further adjournment before proceeding with the meeting or hearing in the absence of the member of staff.

20.7 Assistance for members of staff with disabilities

20.7.1 If a member of staff has any disability which may require particular facilities at any meeting or hearing under these Ordinances, they should request those facilities in advance of the meeting or hearing.

20.8 Suspension

20.8.1 A member of staff may be suspended in circumstances where gross misconduct is alleged, where there are risks to other parties or property, where relationships have seriously broken down such as to impair efficiency, such other reasons as may be appropriate, and to assist an investigation into these and similar matters.

20.8.2 Suspension is a neutral act to facilitate an investigation, which should be carried out promptly, and will normally be on full pay. Suspension will not be used as a form of disciplinary sanction and does not imply that any decision has already been made about the allegations.

20.8.3 Suspension must be authorised by the Director of People and Culture or nominee.

20.8.4 The reason(s) for suspension and the initial period of suspension will be notified in writing to the member of staff by the Director of People and Culture or nominee.

20.8.5 The suspension period will be as brief as practicable and will normally be for a period no longer than 10 working days in the first instance. Should it be determined that the suspension is to continue beyond the initial period, the Director of People and Culture or nominee will write to the member of staff to explain the reason(s) for continuing the suspension and invite comment in writing. The Director of People and Culture or nominee will then re-consider the decision to continue the suspension in the light of any comments received. If the suspension is to continue, the position will be reviewed again at appropriate intervals not normally exceeding 20 working days.

- 20.8.6 During the suspension period, the member of staff must not contact colleagues or visit University premises or access University facilities including email and databases without first obtaining authority from the Director of People and Culture or nominee. Such authority will normally be granted (subject to any conditions considered appropriate) to enable the member of staff to prepare for any formal proceedings. Members of staff retain the right to contact their Trade Union Representative whilst they are suspended.
