

Senate Handbook

Postgraduate Students' Handbook

This Handbook supplements Regulations governed by Senate.

It includes policies, procedures, advice and/or guidance that postgraduate students are expected to follow in the proper conduct of University business.

Please note that this Handbook contains important information for all postgraduate students who are registered on or after 1 August 2022. This Handbook (previously known as the General Student Handbook) supersedes all previous General Student Handbooks issued by the University.

INTRODUCTION

This Handbook is published by Education Services and provides important information and guidance for all registered postgraduate students of the University¹. A separate Senate Handbook (the Undergraduate Students' Handbook) exists for undergraduate students. The Handbook is only valid for the academic year for which it is issued. If you are studying for more than one year, you should make sure that you are referring to the current edition at the start of each academic year, which can be downloaded from the intranet.

The information in this handbook is of a general nature and is applicable to all postgraduate students, whether you are based on the Cranfield campus, at the Defence Academy site at Shrivenham, or elsewhere. It is designed to provide high-level information about a range of important topics, and should be read alongside other more detailed information published on the intranet, documents produced by your School, information contained in individual handbooks for specific courses, and other information and handbooks produced by other areas of the University, including Education Services, Student Wellbeing and Disability Support, Campus Services and Information Services. It does not cover social, medical and recreational facilities, details of which are published separately on the intranet.

Much of the information included is based on the University Laws, which can be found on the University's website. These are reviewed and approved from time to time by the Council and Senate of the University, which has overall jurisdiction on all student matters. Any revisions will be publicised to you through announcements on the intranet and messages in the eBulletin.

Every effort has been made to ensure that the information given in this handbook is correct at the time of publication, but it may be subject to change and amendment. In cases of doubt, please contact the following people:

Maggie Cotter	School of Aerospace, Transport and Manufacturing
James Kidd	Cranfield Defence and Security
Catriona Rolfe	School of Water, Energy, and Environment
Sally Hutchings	Cranfield School of Management
Rebecca Smyth	Senior Assistant Registrar - Academic Administration
Connie Greening	Senior Assistant Registrar - Head of Registry Services

Differences in the information given for students based at the Cranfield campus and the Defence Academy facilities at Shrivenham are highlighted. Information relating to Cranfield is in a blue box and information relating to Shrivenham is in a green box.

GENERAL MATTERS

1.1 Public Health matters

We are committed to providing you with an outstanding, practical education and are working hard to make that a reality, while keeping you safe and healthy.

Further information on our response to the coronavirus pandemic has been published on the University website and intranet.

If it is necessary for the University to make changes to the way our courses are delivered or sites operate because of a pandemic, the health, safety and wellbeing of our students and staff will always remain our number one priority. We will communicate any changes/updates as soon as possible via your Cranfield email address. We will also ensure that you can continue to complete your studies.

You are expected to follow all guidance issued by both the University and the UK Government in relation to public health, and any actions which may endanger the health and safety of yourself or others may be considered as a disciplinary offence.

1.2 Communication channels

1.2.1 From the University to students

The University is made up of a number of units, including central service departments (e.g. Campus Services, Education Services, Facilities, Information Services), and academic Schools. All of these will have useful information and instructions to share with you and will do so through our main communication channels:

- Intranet (see section 1.2) – here you will find general information and guidance as well as regular announcements
- EVE student portal – through the portal you will be asked to complete tasks and activities
- Email – messages will be sent to your @cranfield.ac.uk account

It is therefore important that you frequently access these channels. Please ensure you regularly visit the University intranet and access your @cranfield.ac.uk email account (or ensure mail is forwarded on to you).

If you are a student on a taught course, the course team will outline additional communication routes for all matters relating directly to your course of study. This may include Outlook groups, specific email addresses for the course (academic and administrative staff) and portals and other information in a virtual learning environment (VLE).

If you are a research student, you will be appointed a Supervisor, who will be a key and regular contact for you during your studies. Your Supervisor is also part of a small “supervisory team” who will meet with you at least annually to review your progress with you. Your Supervisor will also alert you to other sources of information and support, usually including a School research office contact.

1.2.2 Email communication

The University's primary mode of contact with you during your studies will be through your @cranfield.ac.uk email address. You may choose to auto-forward emails to your personal address. See <https://webapps2.cranfield.ac.uk/Email4Life/> for more details.

Education Services will, through your Academic team and SAS team, communicate by email with you on a number of subjects relevant and important to your studies, which you may not opt out of. The topics Education Services will contact you about will include, but are not limited to:

- Academic Progression / Achievement
- Attendance
- Course Activity
- Extra-Curricular Activity
- Course Changes
- Classroom / Lab Availability

Throughout your time at Cranfield, you will also receive email communications from other areas of the University, including the Careers Service, Campus Services, Cranfield Students' Association, IT Services, the Libraries, Student Experience, and the Alumni Office.

1.2.3 The intranet

In addition to any VLE, the intranet is a key information resource for all students. Daily news feeds and events occurring around the University are publicised here and you are advised to visit it on a regular basis to ensure you know what is happening around you.

The intranet also provides a wealth of information about how the University can support you in your studies. Look down the right-hand navigation of the home page and explore these pages early on in your studies.

Look here for advice on managing your studies

Look here for advice on life on campus

The screenshot shows the Cranfield University intranet home page. The header includes the Cranfield University logo and navigation links: Home | Useful links | Communications | Services | H&S | Schools | Students | Research | About Us | Website. Below the header, there are sections for 'News', 'Announcements', and 'Events'. A red circle highlights the 'Student handbooks' link in the right-hand navigation menu. A red arrow points from the text 'Look here for advice on managing your studies' to the 'Student handbooks' link. Another red arrow points from the text 'Look here for advice on life on campus' to the 'Life at Cranfield' link in the navigation menu.

In the “Advice” section you will find the full range of Senate Handbooks, alongside other online advice and support covering all aspects of being a student at Cranfield University. You are strongly encouraged to familiarise yourself with the guidance available to you.

1.2.4 Your feedback to the University

At Cranfield University, we aim to provide as many opportunities as possible for you to ask questions, provide feedback and have your voice heard – we call this the ‘Student Voice’. Further information is published on the intranet here. More details on Student Voice can also be found in section 19.2 of this Handbook.

1.3 Cranfield’s Values

Cranfield has four core values that help to define who we are, guide the way we behave and shape our decisions. Our shared, stated values are for all members of the University, and feed into the standards and behaviours that we expect of our students and that you can expect from us.

Each Value is explained and expanded on further on the dedicated Values intranet page <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/Pages/values.aspx>, and also referred to throughout this Handbook.

2 Academic Organisation of the University

The University is headed by the Chief Executive and Vice-Chancellor, Professor Karen Holford CBE. She is supported by eight Pro-Vice-Chancellors:

Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Education)	Professor Sean Tyrrel
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Research and Innovation)	Professor Leon Terry
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (International and Recruitment)	Professor Simon Pollard OBE
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Aerospace, Transport and Manufacturing)	Professor Dame Helen Atkinson CBE
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Defence and Security)	Professor Mark Richardson
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Water, Energy and Environment)	Professor Chris Fogwill
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Management)	Professor David Oglethorpe
Pro-Vice-Chancellor/CEO MK:U	Professor Lynette Ryals OBE

and a number of other colleagues managing University governance and finances.

The academic work of the University is located in Schools, based primarily at the campus at Cranfield, or at the Defence Academy site at Shrivenham. The Schools are each led by a Pro-Vice-Chancellor (see above).

Your education activities are therefore overseen by at least two Pro-Vice-Chancellors of the University.

Within each School, your education provision is overseen by either a Director of Education (for students on taught programmes of study) or a Director of Research (for students on individual programmes of supervised research):

Director of Education (Aerospace, Transport and Manufacturing)	Dr Charles Wainwright
Director of Education (Defence and Security)	Professor Jackie Akhavan
Director of Education (Water, Energy and Environment)	Dr Gill Drew
Director of Education (Management)	Professor Melvyn Peters
Director of Research (Aerospace, Transport and Manufacturing)	Professor Antonios Tsourdos
Director of Research (Defence and Security)	Professor Andrew Shortland
Director of Research (Water, Energy and Environment)	Professor Bruce Jefferson
Director of Research (Management)	Professor Michael Bourlakis

They are responsible for the quality of the education you receive, and for ensuring that resources are available for you to receive a high-quality student experience in all aspects of your study and/or research.

During your time at the University you will be supported by a number of Professional Service Units, some of whom are referred to later in this Handbook, including Education Services, Student Experience, Student Wellbeing and Disability Support, Information Technology and Facilities.

3 Student Representation and Unions

Students are encouraged to engage with the University and wider community in a number of ways, which supports our Cranfield Value of Impact, by 'each play our part in making a difference'.

3.1 Membership of the Cranfield Students' Association

You are automatically a member of the Cranfield Students' Association (CSA). This is a constitutional body of the University set up under the terms of the Royal Charter. It has the power to make representations to the Senate and other bodies of the University to voice student opinion and raise issues of concern. The CSA represents Cranfield students wherever they are located. The President of the CSA for 2022 – 2023 is James Wainwright. The Cranfield campus and the Shrivenham site each have their own Vice-Presidents who are elected by the students at those respective locations, along with a number of other student officers with specific remits. As a member of the CSA, you are also a member of the National Union of Students (NUS). The NUS provides representation to government and promotes the interests of students nationally.

Any student wishing to opt out of membership of the Cranfield Students' Association or of any other "students' union", may do so by giving written notification to the Academic Registrar. The University will endeavour to ensure that any student who has opted out of membership of the CSA is not unfairly disadvantaged.

3.2 Student representation on Senate and Council

Council is the University's governing body and includes a number of external advisers (governors) and staff representatives. The CSA President represents the student body on Council.

Senate is the University's primary committee for managing the academic provision of the University, and is chaired by the Chief Executive and Vice-Chancellor. It includes all professorial members of academic staff and a number of elected staff members. The CSA President, Vice-Presidents and School Representatives are members of Senate. In addition, most members of the CSA Executive are members of one of the standing committees of Senate, Education Committee and Research Committee, and members of the Student Experience Committee.

3.3 Student representation within Schools

Through the CSA, students elect School-level representatives for taught programmes and supervised research programmes. These officers sit on School committees as well as standing committees of Senate as appropriate.

Each School has a system of course representation amongst their students to ensure that the issues affecting the student body are communicated effectively.

Selection of representatives varies between Schools and courses. You should speak to your School directly to find out more information about your representatives.

Course representatives communicate with the CSA via their CSA School representatives to bring issues to the attention of academic staff. The CSA provides training, support and advice to all representatives as required.

3.4 Representation within the UK

While you are studying at university, you may be eligible to vote in regional and national elections: you are strongly encouraged to exercise your right to vote in these elections by registering at: www.gov.uk/register-to-vote. This online registration takes only a few minutes and you will be led through the necessary questions. Please note that any information provided on this website is not shared with the University, and we do not provide the UK Government with your details for this purpose: you are required by law to register personally for these rights.

4 General Conduct and Behaviour

This section of the Handbook outlines what we expect of our students and relates to all four of our Cranfield Values.

4.1 Our Student Charter

The charter details the partnership between Cranfield, our students and the Cranfield Students' Association. It sets out how we work together to enable you to get the most out of your Cranfield experience and to be an active member of our diverse and global community of staff, students, alumni and business partners. The Charter is available on the University website:

<https://www.cranfield.ac.uk/studentcharter>.

If you have any comments/questions about the charter, please contact our Director of Student Experience or the CSA General Manager.

4.2 Student conduct

All staff and students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner which will not discredit or harm the University or its members (including themselves or any other staff and/or students). Failure to maintain this standard, whether due to behaviour that is dishonest, deceitful or fraudulent, or that in any other way constitutes misconduct, is considered a breach of the University Laws. This applies regardless of whether or not the behaviour was deliberate and/or would constitute a criminal offence under English law. Examples of misconduct are:

- a) any action or activity which is in breach of a rule or regulation issued by or on behalf of the University (in the form of formal regulations or supplementary handbooks or policies, such as this one)
- b) behaviour which is disorderly or otherwise disruptive to the proper functioning of the University or any of its activities
- c) behaviour which might reasonably be expected to be harmful, threatening or offensive, or which causes harm or distress to any member of the University or to any other person connected with the University
- d) behaviour which endangers your own health and safety or that of others
- e) behaviour which causes harm or damage to University property, including University halls of residence
- f) cheating in examinations, or in the preparation and submission of any assessed work (whether coursework, group work or thesis), including the submission of academic work of another person as if it were your own and without acknowledgement (i.e. plagiarism).

All allegations of misconduct are dealt with in the first instance by an investigator who may summon the student concerned to appear before them to hear the details of the allegation, and to answer any questions relating to it. Full details of the management of such misconduct are outlined in Senate Handbooks: you will be provided with these in the event of an allegation, but they are available on the intranet under the section headed "Student handbooks".

The Senate Handbooks that relate specifically to disciplinary matters are:

- Senate Handbook on Student Disciplinary Procedures
- Senate Handbook on Academic Misconduct
- Fitness to Study Policy (located within the Senate Handbook on Student Welfare)

Further advice and support is available from staff in Education Services, Student Wellbeing and Disability Support or from the CSA.

4.3 Behavioural misconduct

All students are expected to behave with respect to all members of the University (staff and fellow students), and to expect such respect in return. The University is committed to ensuring that everyone can study and work with confidence and that any harassment or bullying or sexual misconduct will be dealt with swiftly and completely.

The Senate Handbook (available on the intranet) that relates specifically to acceptable behaviour is the Senate Handbook on Disciplinary Procedures.

Our academic staff and other staff of the University are expected to observe a Code of Professional Conduct. This covers situations where there is a family relationship, sexual/romantic relationship or other association with a student that goes beyond the normal professional association between staff and students. A copy of the code may be obtained from the Human Resources Department.

Shrivenham

All Shrivenham students and staff are bound by Shrivenham Station Standing Orders, Routine Orders, the Cranfield University Code of Conduct and, for military personnel, Queen's Regulations and the Armed Forces Act. In most cases, a breach of the Cranfield University Code of Conduct will also constitute a breach of Queen's Regulations and/or the Armed Forces Act. In particular, students and faculty personnel are to be aware that breaches of Shrivenham Station Standing Orders, Routine Orders, Queen's Regulations, the Armed Forces Act or the Cranfield University Code of Conduct (as applicable) may result in exclusion from the establishment.

4.4 Misrepresentation of Cranfield University

You should not represent yourself, or any clubs or societies to which you belong, in any way that could suggest that you have authority to act on behalf of the University or to commit the University to any particular course of action or expenditure.

If you act in this way, the University may take steps to discipline you, which may result in a fine or exclusion from the University (see Section 4.2).

4.5 Freedom of speech

In accordance with its obligations under the 1986 Education Act, the University recognises that freedom of speech is a fundamental right of students and their equal treatment. No premises of the University are denied to any individual or group of people on the grounds of their beliefs or views or expressions of such, except where there are clear risks to either health or safety, or where there is a clear intent to express such beliefs or views in such a way as to incite an audience to violence or to a breach of the peace (as per the University's responsibilities under the Prevent Duty and Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015).

4.6 Comments and complaints by students

If you feel that your studies or general activities as a member of the University are not proceeding satisfactorily, you should discuss the matter, in the first instance, with the members of staff directly concerned. The University is committed to resolving concerns at the earliest opportunity, and at the local level wherever possible. Student Wellbeing and Disability Support can offer advice and, where appropriate, mediation services to help facilitate a resolution at an early stage.

In particular, problems relating to academic progress must be raised at the time they occur, so they can be investigated and appropriate action taken. University examiners will not normally be in a position to take account of problems that were not notified by you at the time that they occurred.

Where concerns are not resolved locally, the University has established mechanisms for complaints to be managed more formally.

The Senate Handbook (available on the intranet) that relates specifically to student complaints is:

- Senate Handbook on Complaints

Further guidance on submitting formal complaints can also be obtained from staff in Education Services, Student Wellbeing and Disability Support and the CSA.

4.7 Student conduct in accommodation

Cranfield

All students and their dependents that reside in on-campus accommodation are expected to adhere to the full terms and conditions for the use of campus accommodation as set out in their tenancy agreement. The information about University-owned accommodation below applies solely to the Cranfield campus.

Students in campus accommodation are required to watch an online fire training video as part of their e-induction and complete a questionnaire before receiving their tenancy agreement.

Shrivenham

There is no University-owned student accommodation at the Defence Academy. If you require information about letting agents and local people with rooms to let in the Shrivenham area, please see:
<http://www.cranfield.ac.uk/study/life-on-campus/life-at-shrivenham/accommodation>.

or contact:

accommodation.shriv@cranfield.ac.uk

The remaining information about university-owned accommodation below applies solely to the Cranfield campus.

You will not be permitted to occupy any category of University-owned residential accommodation for a period greater than your period of registration, or for more than two years, unless an application for extension of occupancy has been submitted and approved. Applications for an extension may only be submitted within the six months prior to the end of the occupancy period. Approval will be subject to the demand for residential accommodation for new students in the next academic year. If approval is given it will be for a period of no longer than twelve months per application.

If you (and your dependents and visitors) are living in or visiting University-owned accommodation, you are expected to conduct yourself in a manner which shows respect and consideration and does not discredit or place fellow residents or staff in danger. Failure to maintain this expected standard will be in breach of the terms of the tenancy agreement you signed upon accepting your accommodation. Some examples of misconduct are:

- behaviour which is violent, disorderly or wilful, which places University property, associated equipment, yourself, staff or other residents at risk
- tampering with and affecting the effectiveness of all fire equipment and equipment provided in accommodation areas by the University
- the holding of unofficial parties which regularly and unreasonably impact upon fellow residents
- failure to pay accommodation charges at the required times and being in debt to the University
- failure to dispose of waste or recycling in the correct manner as instructed by the University or the local authority.

Any breach of the tenancy agreement will, in the first instance, be dealt with by the relevant supervisor or manager. Depending on the severity or regularity of the breach, this could lead to referral to the Accommodation Manager who has the right to request a meeting with the individual(s) to discuss the allegation. If the Accommodation Manager finds the allegation to be valid, they may impose a fine or warning. If the allegation is serious and/or warrants further investigation, the Accommodation Manager may refer this to the Director of Campus Services which could lead to expulsion from the accommodation.

4.8 No smoking policy

Cranfield University's no smoking policy reflects national legislation which makes it a criminal offence to smoke or permit smoking in enclosed places and workplaces.

Smoking is therefore prohibited in all University buildings, University-owned vehicles and within three metres of any University building. At the Defence Academy, Shrivenham, smoking is not permitted anywhere onsite, as part of the Ministry of Defence's commitment to a smoke-free estate. Persons wishing to smoke must exit the Defence Academy site to do so.

The full University no smoking policy can be found on the intranet.

4.9 Children on site

Should the need arise to bring children (under the age of 18) onto any University site, you are advised that they must be accompanied at all times. Children should not be provided access to any University-owned (or at Shrivenham, Serco or MOD owned) equipment or systems, unless specific permission has been provided for a specific purpose (i.e. an event or open day).

For reasons of safety, please be aware that children under the age of 12 are not allowed in the Kings Norton Library on the Cranfield campus.

4.10 Animals on site

You are not permitted to bring domestic pets or other animals onto either the Cranfield Campus or the Shrivenham site, to ensure the health and safety and wellbeing of all members of the University. Students who are supported by recognised assistance animals will however be permitted to bring such animals onto the University sites as required.

5 Engagement and Attendance

The University has a formal Student Engagement Policy which sets out the processes and expectations for monitoring, recording and reporting on student engagement and attendance.

The University expects students to engage with their studies and to attend the various learning opportunities provided by their course. The University believes this is key to successful course completion. Any student may have their registration suspended or terminated because of concerns about academic progress, lack of attendance/engagement or lack of contact with the course or research team. In addition, the University has particular licence obligations with respect to students who hold with a Tier 4/Student visa for monitoring, recording and reporting engagement. Although many lectures and teaching sessions are recorded, these are intended as learning aids and not substitutes for attendance.

The University treats formal face-to-face interaction with an Academic member of staff as an academic engagement. Face-to-face interactions are measured through defined contact points.

According to the UKVI's Student sponsor guidance, Student sponsors should report to the UKVI any full or part-time student who stops academically engaging.

Different processes exist for Taught and Research students, summarised below.

5.1 Research students

A meeting between you and your supervisor(s) should take place at least once per month (for full-time students, or once every two months for part-time students), and be documented by you. You should provide a record of the meeting within the agreed timescale (normally two weeks) to your Supervisor and Student Academic Support (SAS) Lead (via the VLE), who will record that the meeting has taken place.

Should you miss a number of consecutive meetings your supervisor will work with the SAS team to investigate why meetings have been missed and what the next appropriate steps may be. If you are on a Student/Tier 4 visa, the SAS team will notify the Student Immigration and Funding (SIF) team, who will contact you requesting that you contact SIF within a defined time frame. If you do not contact the SIF team, the withdrawal of your Student/Tier 4 sponsorship would commence. During this process your supervisor will be kept informed of any actions and outcomes.

5.2 Taught students

The process differs slightly for the different stages of a taught course.

5.2.1 Contact points

For taught modules, a module register will be completed, which is stored centrally by the SAS team.

For group projects you will need to sign the group meeting attendance sign in sheets, which will be stored centrally by the SAS team.

At the thesis stage, you and your supervisors should meet at least once per month. These meetings should be supported by written evidence of actions/agreements provided by you, and copied to your SAS Lead, who will record that a meeting has taken place.

5.2.2 Interventions

If you miss a number of consecutive contact points your SAS team, in liaison with your Course Director, will look into why meetings have been missed and what the next appropriate steps may be.

If you are on a Student/Tier 4 visa, your SAS team will notify the Student Immigration and Funding (SIF) team, who will contact you requesting that you contact SIF within a defined time frame. If you do not contact the SIF team, the withdrawal of your Student/Tier 4 sponsorship would commence. During this process, your course director/group supervisor/supervisor will be kept informed of actions and outcomes.

6 Medical and Welfare Services

The National Health Service (NHS) provides healthcare for all UK students, for European students under reciprocal agreements, and for international students and their families who are resident in the UK for a period of six months or longer from the date of their NHS registration.

It is therefore important to register with an NHS doctor as soon as possible after your arrival. Lists of GP services local to both Cranfield and Shrivvenham are provided on the intranet. There is no charge for registration with a doctor.

The University also contracts external providers to support the welfare needs of students, through personal counselling.

Face-to-face counselling

A professional and confidential counselling service is available to all students free of charge, offering up to six sessions, to help with social, personal or emotional concerns. Contact the Student Wellbeing and Disability Support service for further information and to be referred for counselling.

Welfare support is also available through the CSA, who are able to assist you with all non-academic problems. Issues affecting a large group of students may be dealt with through the elected Welfare Officer or International Students' Officer as required. Individual or small group issues may be addressed through CSA staff or Officers as appropriate.

A separate Senate Handbook on Student Welfare is available both online and on the intranet, and you should ensure you have read and understand the guidance and policies contained within it.

The Handbook includes a number of the University's welfare policies including:

- Fitness to Study Policy
- Student Disability Policies
- Mental Health Policy
- University Equality Scheme.

7 Data Protection and Privacy

7.1 University policy

The University is committed to ensuring that the personal data of its applicants, students and alumni is handled in accordance with UK data protection legislation.

The University's Privacy Policy can be found here:

<https://www.cranfield.ac.uk/about/governance-and-policies/policies-and-regulations/privacy-notice>.

In addition, Cranfield publishes a Student Privacy Notice which is available on the intranet:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/EducationServices/Documents/StudentPrivacyNotice.pdf>

You should be aware that, as per the Student Privacy Notice, the University will share information about your progress and achievement with financial sponsors who have paid some or all of the tuition fee (e.g. UK research councils, an employer or a scholarship provider). If you are sponsored by the Defence Academy (Ministry of Defence, UK), the University will share personal data, academic progress data, and data relating to any instances of misconduct with the Defence Academy. This will include (but not be limited to) cases of lack of academic progression, failure to attend courses and cases of academic or other forms of misconduct. Defence Academy staff also regularly attend committees of the University charged with managing the academic provision of its sponsored students.

7.2 Government requirements

The University is required by the UK Government (through the Office for Students) to provide certain data to a central statistical agency, the Higher Education Statistics Agency (HESA). A Statement from HESA explaining how this data is used can be found here.

7.3 Recording of lectures and other classes

The University records many of its lectures and classes for use by students for private study: it is common practice for this to be announced prior to the session. If you have any concerns about being recorded, or with your participation being broadcast, you should raise your concerns with the lecturer or with your Course Director as soon as possible. Access to recorded lectures and classes will normally be through your course's virtual learning environment: you should discuss access to these with your Course Director or Supervisor or other members of your course or supervisory team.

Personal recording (video, audio or still image) of lectures, classes, fellow students, guest speakers, group work with others and examinations (including oral examinations) is only permitted where explicit consent of all of those present has been gained. Secret or unauthorised recordings may lead to a disciplinary investigation of your behaviour. If you have special support needs, you may be granted permission to record lectures without gaining the consent of all present. In this instance, recordings are for study purposes only and you will be required to delete these recordings once no longer required.

You may only use any lecture recordings for the purpose of your own personal study. The sharing of lecture recordings is prohibited, and disciplinary action will be taken if this occurs. You must destroy any recordings you have once it is no longer required for your own personal study - this will be on completion of the final assessment to which the lecture relates to or when you leave the University, whichever is sooner. Recorded lectures are intended as learning aids and not substitutes for attendance.

Further details are given in the University's Data Protection Audio and Video Recording Guidelines, which can be accessed on the intranet:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/Documents/DPAudioVideoRecordingGuidelines.pdf>.

7.4 University IT facilities

You may use IT facilities for private and personal use, providing that they comply with the University's IT Users Policy and other associated policies, which you must sign in agreement with. You may not use "Cranfield University" or its logo for private businesses or enterprises (including student societies) without written permission.

You should be aware that email facilities and electronic file stores are retained by the University. The University reserves the right to access information held on University IT facilities, including email accounts and electronic file stores for the purposes of investigating misuse, cases of disciplinary investigations, and/or to remove any material found to be in contravention of copyright and other applicable laws.

Information may also be accessed where you are absent from the University for a long period unexpectedly: students should make arrangements to ensure that appropriate file sharing with other staff and students is set up in advance of any planned absences.

The University's IT policies, including the IT Users Policy, can be found on the intranet.

8 Financial and Legal Matters

8.1 Tuition fees

Tuition fees for the first year of a course of study are payable either in advance or at registration and are usually non-refundable. If a course is longer than one year, tuition fees are payable annually in advance for each subsequent year. You should note that the University is entitled to charge interest on tuition fees and other charges that are not paid when due.

The Student Finance Team (studentfinance@cranfield.ac.uk) is responsible for raising invoices for course fees for long course students, rent invoices and for making any bursary or travel and subsistence payments due to students.

Payment by bank transfer

Any payments to be made to the University can be paid into the following bank accounts held at National Westminster Bank Plc:

GBP Bank Code: 60-06-56
Account: 00516228
IBAN: GB38 NWBK 6006 5600 5162 28 BIC: NWBK GB 2L

EUR Bank Code: 60-06-56
Account: 02372312
IBAN: GB83 NWBK 6072 1102 3723 12 BIC: NWBK GB 2L

USD Bank Code: 60-06-56
Account: 01026313
IBAN: GB19 NWBK 6073 0101 0263 13 BIC: NWBK GB 2L

Please ensure that your student number is quoted on all payments to be made.

Payment by debit or credit card

You can make a payment by debit or credit card online at: <https://webpayments.cranfield.ac.uk>

8.2 Council Tax

If you are studying full-time, you are exempt from paying Council Tax, but you must provide evidence to the council that you are studying. You should note that if any member of your household is working, the house occupants may be liable to pay Council Tax. You must check this with your local council or this may lead to legal action being taken against the occupants of the house.

Self-service letters are available from EVE confirming your student status to assist in applying for Council Tax concessions. Where the self-service letter contains insufficient information for its intended purpose please request in person or by email:

8.3 UK TV licencing laws

If you are using equipment to watch live TV, whether via terrestrial or internet providers, you are required to purchase a TV licence. For further information, and to purchase a Government TV Licence, please visit: www.tvlicensing.co.uk.

8.4 Employment during your studies

We expect you to devote sufficient time to your studies in order to be able to successfully complete your course. If you are a full-time student, this should be at least 40 hours per week for the duration of your course (including the project phase for taught students).

The University is mindful that you may need to work part-time to support yourself during your studies, however you are restricted to working no more than 18 hours per week. If you are a full-time student, you are also advised not to work for more than a combined total of 18 hours per week for any employers in order that you can fully concentrate on your studies.

Please note, your Cranfield University email address should not be used in connection with any paid employment, it is intended only for use in connection with your studies.

International students

If you are in the UK on a UKVI visa (either as a Tier 4 student or in any other category), you will have specific restrictions placed on any paid work you are allowed to undertake while studying/in the UK. This may range from a certain amount of hours per week, to not being able to undertake any paid employment. You must ensure that you do not breach the paid work restrictions of your visa.

8.5 Fraud and Scams

The University is aware that students may be targeted as potential victims of fraud or scams.

Such scams can include:

- Phone scams (vishing): when someone calls claiming to be from your bank or another trusted organisation. They may know some of your basic bank and personal information. A genuine bank will never ask for personal financial details including your PIN, full banking password (even by tapping it in on your phone) or ask you transfer money directly to them.
- Text message scams (smishing): the fraudster will pretend a message is from your bank or another organisation you trust. They will usually tell you there has been fraud on your account and will ask you to deal with it by calling a number they provide or by visiting a fake website to update your personal details. This is the fraud, any data you enter will be captured by them.
- Email scams (phishing): this type of email will usually say you need to verify or update some details or reactivate an account. Always be suspicious of emails that are supposedly from your bank or another trusted organisation because the address can be easily faked. Never automatically click on any links before stopping to check if they seem genuine first.
- Online fraud: covers everything from online shopping to online banking, one thing can help prevent both: install security software and updates most banks offer. These can help protect you whether the fraudsters are trying to dupe you with fake pop-ups in your online banking window, sending you 'scam alert' messages that hide malware, or faking retailer websites to make you input your bank details.

Further details, as well as tips for keeping yourself safe can be found on the intranet:

Fraud and scams - Keep yourself safe \(cranfield.ac.uk\)

If you think there has been fraud on your card or bank account or if you suspect someone has attempted to access your financial details report it immediately to your bank or other financial services provider. You should then contact Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or at actionfraud.police.uk

If you think you have been targeted by someone claiming to be from UKVI, please contact the Student Immigration and Funding team:

- T: 01234 752970; 754179; 758181
- E: studentimmigration@cranfield.ac.uk

Further guidance for international students is also available here: UKCISA - international student advice and guidance - Frauds and scams.

9 Health, Safety, Security and the Environment

9.1 Health and safety

The University recognises and accepts its responsibility to ensure the health and safety of its students while at the University, as well as its obligations to employees, contractors and visitors. The University's Health and Safety Policy Statement, along with procedures, guidance and forms, are available on the Health and Safety Intranet site:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/safety/Pages/Default.aspx>

Cranfield

A health and safety guide for all students studying at the Cranfield campus can be found here:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/safety/Pages/Default.aspx>

Shrivenham

A health and safety guide for all students studying at the Defence Academy can be found here:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/safety/Pages/Default.aspx>

In addition to the general University Health and Safety policy and procedures, site specific arrangements are in place at the Defence Academy.

9.2 Health and safety on University sites

Due to the operational nature of both the Cranfield campus and Shrivenham site, you are expected to act sensibly and with due regard to your own health and safety, and that of others at all times. Actions which endanger either the health and safety of yourself or others, or which may harm the safe operation of services on site (whether University run or not), may result in disciplinary action being taken against you.

Cranfield

Cranfield has a fully operational airport on campus. You are not permitted under any circumstances to enter the airport, airfield or runways unless as part of a pre-arranged learning opportunity.

Trespass on the airport site poses a significant health and safety risk to yourself and others, and is a disciplinary offence.

Shrivenham

The whole of the Shrivenham site is a working Ministry of Defence (MoD) site, with military vehicles, helicopter landing sites and live ammunition and ordnance.

You must adhere to all notices, instructions and station orders at all times.

9.3 General security

You will be issued with an identity card which includes your photograph (replacements for lost or damaged cards may be subject to a small charge). Please carry your card with you at all times as you may be asked to produce it on request to establish your identity and status.

CCTV is in operation about both locations.

9.4 Health and safety in Cranfield campus accommodation

The fire alarm in the halls of residence is a high-pitched intermittent note sounding throughout the building. When an alarm sounds, you are required to leave the building at once. Lifts should not be used.

Fire safety equipment must not be tampered with in any way. Interference with extinguishers, alarms, safety signs or any such equipment will incur disciplinary action and financial penalties.

Within on-campus accommodation, cooking is restricted to those areas designated as kitchens and is not allowed in study bedroom areas. All electrical appliances in these kitchens are subject to portable appliance testing. Instructions are available and the Residential Services team are on hand to assist if necessary. In the interests of safety, cooking should never be left unattended and fire doors must be kept closed at all times.

9.5 Environmental management

The University aims to provide a sustainable environment in which to live, work and study. We therefore expect everyone who works, studies or lives on campus to support our vision by taking small initiatives to reduce energy use, recycling waste correctly and avoiding causing pollution and promptly reporting any incidents which may occur. The University's Environmental Management Policy Statement, Environmental Objectives, along with supporting procedures, guidance and forms, are available on the Energy and Environment intranet site:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/EnergyEnvironment/Pages/env-home.aspx>

During your time at the University, please help us to keep the campus clean and green by making sure you put all rubbish into the correct bins – this includes designated bins for cigarette butts – please make sure these are not alight before placing them in the bin. Recycling bins are provided in Halls of Residence and within communal areas throughout the University buildings.

10 Transport and Travelling

10.1 Travelling to the University

Before you buy a car to commute to the University, please take a moment to consider the public transport options to reach the campus. Go to <http://traveline.info> to search for available public transport options.

Cranfield

The University subsidises the Cranfield Connect UNO bus service from campus to Milton Keynes, Flitwick, Newport Pagnell, Cranfield village, Bedford and villages in between.

Further details on travel to campus are available on the intranet:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/estates/Transport/Pages/default.aspx>

Shrivenham

The Stagecoach bus service between Oxford and Swindon stops at Shrivenham.

Further details are available from:

<http://www.cranfield.ac.uk/About/How-to-find-Cranfield/How-to-find-Shrivenham>

The University also encourages staff and students to share their car journeys to campus with other members of the University. The University operates a lift share scheme, details of which can be found here: <https://liftshare.com/uk/community/cranfield>. To sign up you will need to use your University email address and follow the instructions to find car share partners from your local area.

10.2 Road safety and the law

If you are cycling, running or walking, please make sure that:

- you read the rules for cyclist stated in the Highway Code.
- you cycle on the left side of the road. Cycling on the right is illegal.
- if you are cycling/running/walking at night, you wear a high-visibility vest and your cycle is fitted with properly-working lights at the front and rear of the bike.

Cranfield

High visibility vests are available free of charge from Cranfield Students' Association, the Library or the Fitness Centre.

If you are from outside the UK and are bringing your own vehicle into the country, please make sure you check your tax and insurance liabilities under UK law. This will depend on how long your vehicle is in the UK. Visit the following site for more information:

<https://www.gov.uk/importing-vehicles-into-the-uk/temporary-imports>.

You should ensure that you comply with ALL the requirements of the Road Traffic Acts which are outlined on the following website:

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/the-highway-code/annex-4-the-road-user-and-the-law>

The Highway Code provides legal rules of the roads in England, Scotland and Wales that must be followed: <https://www.gov.uk/highway-code/contents>. It details specific rules for using the roads including overtaking, road junctions, roundabouts, pedestrian crossings, reversing, etc.

10.3 Cars on campus

Cranfield

Cars brought on to the campus by students must be registered using the online vehicle registration form, <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/estate/estate/Pages/Carparking.aspx>. Each vehicle you use to travel to the campus need to be registered.

The Security team work with First Parking to manage parking on campus, which includes the power to issue parking fines. Any vehicle parked inappropriately or failing to register will receive a warning and repeat offenders may receive a Parking Charge Notice (see below).

Full details can be found in the intranet:

<https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/estates/Pages/Carparking.aspx>

The Main Reception is manned continuously, and is the focal point for all security matters. All security incidents or suspicious behaviour should be reported to Security (Ext 2201).

Shrivenham

Cars brought on to the Defence Academy site will need a vehicle pass which can be obtained from the MOD Guard Service at the Main Gate. Security arrangements are determined by Ministry of Defence policy.

The Ministry of Defence Guard Service staff the Main Gate continuously and the Beckett Gate at core times.

The University reserves the right to refuse access by any vehicle to any part of its road system and to remove any vehicle which is not moved on request. Permission to enter is given by way of an appropriate registration disc and is given on condition that the University shall not be responsible for any loss or damage to the vehicle or its contents. Permission may be withdrawn at any time at the University's discretion.

Speed limits at both locations are 20 miles per hour or lower and must be adhered to at all times.

Cranfield

All accidents involving vehicles and which lead to personal injury and/or damage to University property are to be reported to the Security Gatehouse (Ext 2201) immediately. Accidents involving University vehicles are also to be reported to the Transport Section.

No vehicle or person is allowed on to the airfield, including the perimeter track, unless duly authorised by Air Traffic Control.

Shrivenham

Speed checks are carried out from time to time, and anyone speeding could have their right to bring their car onto the site removed.

Accidents involving vehicles should be reported through the Accident/Incident report form, which can be found on the H&S Intranet.

10.4 Driving licences

It is your responsibility to make sure you hold a valid driving licence. If you have a non-European Union (EU) driving licence or international driving permit, you can drive in Great Britain (GB) for a period of 12-months from the date of entry. Please refer to the following website to check you have a valid driving licence: <http://www.gov.uk/non-gb-driving-licence>.

10.5 Insurance for University business trips

The University provides travel and medical insurance cover if you are travelling outside the UK on University business only. This insurance does not cover incidental holiday travel.

If you are travelling abroad in this capacity, you should request your School to complete an online Travel Notification Form on your behalf prior to the start date of the journey. This form can also be found on the intranet. This form will only be considered if it is completed by a member of staff: forms submitted by students will not be considered. If you require a visa to travel you should also request a Letter of Indemnity in your application for insurance.

You should download the guide to the insurance cover and take it with you on your journey which can be found on the intranet: <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/insurance/Pages/default.aspx>.

You are not insured by the University for private travel. You are not insured by the University in connection with sports or social activities, and the University accepts no liability in this respect. The CSA provides very limited, largely third party, insurance for sports activities, where a student is officially representing the University. You are advised, however, to obtain your own insurance cover to protect yourself against personal injury and loss of work or study time.

You should also note that the University's insurance arrangements do not cover your personal possessions; you are strongly advised to take out your own insurance cover in this respect. However, as part of the package for students and their families living in University-owned accommodation insurance is provided to cover students' personal belongings across the whole site. The charge for this insurance is invoiced as a one-off payment for the year.

11 Equality and Diversity

Cranfield University is committed to equality and diversity and promoting a good and harmonious environment where everyone is treated with dignity and respect. This is reflected in our Values Respect and Community.

Our commitment is highlighted in our Charter:

The University will provide a collaborative and supportive working and learning environment, which embeds equality of opportunity and the rights of individuals in all its operations and treats everyone with dignity and respect.

The University aims to promote an inclusive learning, teaching and working environment in which students and staff are not disadvantaged or treated unfavourably on the basis of their gender, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religious or political beliefs, disability, marital status, social background, family circumstance, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, age or for any other reason.

Teaching, learning and working environments and practices are reviewed on a regular basis to ensure that students do not experience barriers to full participation in the life of the University and to ensure that the skills and potential of all students are developed fully.

The University is receptive to, and actively seeks, feedback from students on diversity issues and it values their help in putting the University's Equality and Diversity policy into practice. Furthermore, there are a number of policies and procedures in place to support students from all backgrounds, as well as specific support mechanisms in place for students with specific learning needs and/or disabilities (including mental health and dyslexia) including Learning Support Officers and Student Advisors based in Student Wellbeing and Disability Support, who are available for students who would like to talk to somebody about any inappropriate behaviours that they may have experienced. Details of these can be found on the University intranet.

The Senate Handbooks (available on the intranet) that relate specifically to equality and diversity are:

- Senate Handbook on Student Welfare
- Senate Handbook on Complaints
- Senate Handbook on Disciplinary Procedures

ACADEMIC MATTERS

12 Being a Registered Student

12.1 Definition of a registered student

When you commence your studies, you become “registered” with the University, and remain so until either you have been conferred with a final award (for students on award-bearing courses), complete your programme of study (for students on non-award-bearing courses), or leave the University either through your own choice or through an enforced termination of registration put into place by the University.

Within this period of registration, there is a formal “period of study”: this is the period of time outlined on your registration form at the start of the studies, and for which you pay tuition fees.

Registration by a student indicates that they:

- accept the terms of the offer of admission and will comply with the Laws of the University and other rules properly issued by or on behalf of the University that may be in force from time to time
- will pursue their studies with due application and diligence
- will agree to any medical examinations relevant to the undertaking of their course, if and when required by the University, and will agree to the results of any examination being made known to the University
- will pay all tuition fees (including all fees for registration, tuition and initial assessment during the specified registration period) and other charges as notified and when due. Changes to registration, extensions and additional tuition and assessment may require additional fees.

It is your responsibility to ensure that Registry are kept apprised of all changes to your name and contact details subsequent to initial registration and at least until you leave the University at the end of your studies or at graduation. You should update your details through the EVE portal.

12.2 Cranfield’s responsibilities towards registered students

Acceptance of registration by the University signifies that, subject to the University Laws and to any particular conditions specified, the University will do its best:

- to provide appropriate teaching and facilities for the period of registration
- to arrange in due course the examination of the student with a view to the award of the academic distinction specified.

Our programme of courses is subject to continuing development and changed circumstances may necessitate cancellation or alteration to the programme of courses. We reserve the right to make variations if such action is considered necessary and in such circumstances will take all reasonable steps to minimise any resultant disruption.

13 Management of the Period of Study and Registration

13.1 General management of provision

The University outlines policies and procedures for the management of academic provision, which all staff and students are expected to comply with. In addition, local boards of examiners and course teams may outline more detailed procedures which apply to specific courses or provision.

You should familiarise yourself with your course or study requirement outlined in University, School and course-level information.

University-level expectations are outlined in Senate Handbooks (available on the intranet). You are advised at the outset of your studies to familiarise yourself with:

- Senate Handbook on Managing Taught Courses
- Senate Handbook on Managing Research Students
- Senate Research Students' Handbook
- Senate Handbook on Academic Misconduct
- Senate Handbook on Changes to Registration
- Senate Handbook on Assessment Rules (Postgraduate Taught Courses)

13.2 Management of changes in circumstances

The Senate Handbook on Changes to Registration specifically relates to how you will be managed if circumstances arise that require changes to the pattern of studies. This is most often due to changes in your personal circumstances (e.g. financial, domestic, health of yourself or others).

Should you wish that any of the details of your studies, and therefore your period of study and registration, be changed at any stage you should discuss the matter, in the first instance, with your Student and Academic Support Lead (SAS team) in your School. Subsequently, a formal request for change must be submitted for approval.

Changes to registration will only be granted for good reasons and applications must be submitted with evidence as soon as it is apparent that a change to registration is needed.

Agreement to any change in registration must not be assumed to have been given unless it has been formally notified to the student by the Academic Registrar or a person clearly acting on their behalf.

Course transfers (i.e. from one MSc course to another) are normally only approved if requested within the first month of study.

The Handbooks outlined above also outline circumstances where the University may act to terminate your registration early, with or without your permission.

13.3 Study abroad – Turing Scheme

The Turing Scheme is the UK government's programme to provide funding for international opportunities in education and training across the world. Outward mobility may be available for registered students at Cranfield University for a period of 3-12 months to undertake a period of mobility as part of their course.

If you are interested, you should speak to your supervisor in the first instance and then make contact with: studentfunding@cranfield.ac.uk.

Since 2021/22 the UK Government has funded the Turing Scheme for student mobility as a replacement for the UK's participation in Erasmus. Cranfield applies to participate in the scheme each year and funding allocation is decided by the UK Government. The amount of funding and the type of activities that will be supported could change from year to year. Further updates and confirmation of activities that can be supported each year will be published on the intranet.

As a Turing student, you are entitled to expect:

- sending and receiving institutions to sign with you before you leave a Learning Agreement setting out the details of your planned activities abroad.
- full academic recognition from your home university for satisfactorily completed activities during the Turing mobility period, in accordance with the Learning/Training Agreement.
- to receive a grant to go toward your living costs while you are abroad on your mobility placement.

As a Turing student, you are expected to:

- respect the rules and obligations of your Turing participant agreement with Cranfield University.
- ensure that any changes to the Learning/Training Agreement are agreed in writing with both Cranfield University and host institution immediately as they occur.
- spend the full study/placement period as agreed at the host university/enterprise and respect its rules and regulations.
- write a report on your Turing study/placement period abroad when you return and provide feedback if requested by Cranfield University.

14 Student Work and Assessment

14.1 Intellectual Property Rights

The copyright and other intellectual property rights in relation to all work and materials that you prepare and submit as part of your programme of study are assigned to and vested in the University, except where this has been specifically agreed otherwise by the University in writing.

The University, however, will generally allow unrestricted access to this work once it has been examined. The publication of the work of students is strongly encouraged, but permission must be obtained from the relevant academic advisers of the student on behalf of the University.

Where your work is the result of publicly-funded research, it is an expectation that the reports, publications or other outputs will be placed in the public domain.

The University also provides guidance on the general academic standards required and information on the “prescribed form” and the length of theses.

You should also note that if and when you undertake work sponsored by a commercial partner or similar organisation, you will be required to observe all conditions of Cranfield’s contract with the Sponsor, including confidentiality.

14.2 Academic misconduct

The University prides itself on, and works hard to ensure the academic integrity of all of its awards. You are expected to take pride in your studies and uphold a high level of academic integrity throughout. All assessed work must be your own work, except where exceptions are allowed and stated explicitly. Plagiarism (i.e. the use, without acknowledgement, of the intellectual work of other people, and the act of representing the ideas or discoveries of others as one’s own in any work submitted for assessment or presented for publication) is a form of academic misconduct and is not acceptable, and will normally result in failure of the work by the examiners and disciplinary action.

In addition, any examination (whether a taught assessment or a research student progress review meeting or viva) must be undertaken solely by yourself - partners, family members or friends are not permitted to attend any examination or contribute to it on your behalf.

You are particularly advised at the outset of your studies to familiarise yourself with the Senate Handbook on Academic Misconduct, and take advantage of the courses and tools offered by the University to help you understand the definitions of academic misconduct and how to avoid it. Further details are available on the intranet.

14.3 Examinations and assessments

The University assessment rules and guidelines are available to you in the Senate Handbook on Assessment Rules (Postgraduate Taught Courses). The Handbook outlines the expectations placed on you as a student in relation to assessment rules and includes:

- your responsibilities
- pass criteria
- retake opportunities
- examination, assignment and thesis procedures
- exceptional circumstances procedure.

It is important that you familiarise yourself with the Senate Handbook on Assessment Rules (Postgraduate Taught Courses) and ensure that you are aware of your responsibilities in relation to assessment.

You should pay particular attention to the sections on:

- Student responsibilities (which outlines your responsibility to submit assessments or to request consideration of exceptional circumstances, and outlines the penalties for failure to submit or late submissions)
- Pass criteria (for both awards and individual assessments)
- Exceptional circumstances (which outlines the requirement to submit requests in advance of the deadline or assessment date in accordance with the university wide process)

Below is a short summary of the above sections, which is included for reference only; you should ensure that you read the Senate Handbook on Assessment Rules for Taught Courses in full.

- 1) When agreeing to a module or course, you are accepting that you are able to meet the necessary commitments for:
 - attending classes and other scheduled events;
 - managing any private study commitments; and
 - meeting the stated dates of assessment (either examination dates or deadlines for the submission of work for assessment).

The University encourages you to take full responsibility for your learning: while it permits you to take control of your studies and assessment in advance, it has strict rules relating to the consequences without prior approval, of:

- failure to attend formal examinations; or
- late submission of work for assessment; or
- failure to submit work for assessment.

- 2) There are serious consequences if you fail to complete scheduled assessments, and do not arrange in advance a modification to your pattern of studies and/or assessment – full details are given at section 2.3 of the Assessment Rules for Taught Courses Handbook.
- 3) If you fail to follow the instructions for a piece of work submitted for assessment, the board of examiners may at its discretion award a mark of zero, or apply any penalty outlined by the course team in advance.
- 4) In order to receive the credits for an assessment, you will be required to demonstrate that you have made an attempt to follow the assignment specification. The board of examiners may at its discretion award a mark of zero or apply any penalty outlined by the course team in advance. The examiners will use their academic judgment to determine whether you have made sufficient attempt to be awarded the credit in order for your marks to be compensated by marks in other modules. Failure to follow assessment instructions is not eligible grounds for an academic appeal.
- 5) It is your responsibility to ensure that the correct work is submitted on time. You should ensure that you leave sufficient time to submit your work, and allow time for any technological issues or delays that may occur. If you are unable to submit an assessment you must follow the exceptional circumstances procedure detailed in Part C of the Assessment Rules for Taught Courses Handbook. Please note: all stated submission times are based on the UK timezone.

Exceptional circumstances are defined as those which are:

- Relevant: the circumstances directly affect the learning and or preparation for the assessment (i.e. occur within the timeframe of the assessment); and

- Unexpected: the circumstances were unforeseen prior to the request (i.e. the circumstances should be submitted as soon as they are known); and
- External: the circumstances were outside of your control and that you could not have reasonably been expected to take action to mitigate the impact of the circumstances.

Examples of circumstances which would not be considered exceptional include (but are not limited to):

- Aspects of the learning environment which you have reasonable control over (e.g. availability of learning resources, deadline conflicts, misreading or misunderstanding assessment requirements/dates or University regulations; not checking your Cranfield email account or VLE, personal computer/printer problems including loss of computer data, submitting the wrong work (or version of the work));
- Aspects of your personal life which are not short-term or unexpected (e.g. change of address or employment, personal holidays or travel plans, self-inflicted illnesses (e.g. from substance abuse or sleep deprivation), weddings or similar family events);
- Minor illnesses, injuries, or ailments (e.g. colds, headaches, hay fever) or normal examination/assessment anxiety;
- Financial issues;
- Poor time management;
- Foreseeable or minor travel disruption (e.g. short train delays, travel strikes, road-works etc.);
- Routine full- or part-time employment activities;
- Personal conditions that were not disclosed in time for special examination arrangements to be made, but could have been;
- Circumstances where it is more appropriate to consider a suspension from studies (e.g. long-term illness, maternity/ paternity leave, major changes in personal or financial circumstances);
- Any circumstance already supported through a Student Support Plan;
- Any circumstance already addressed through an approved extension or deferral;
- Any circumstance arising from a misconduct or disciplinary proceeding (such as restriction of access to University facilities), unless the restriction is rescinded retrospectively following any investigation or review.

Late submission, failure to submit or failure to attend an examination may result in your mark being capped or even failure of the award, it is therefore extremely important that you familiarise yourself with the Assessment Rules handbook.

You are required to submit your work electronically (unless otherwise stated) by the deadline given in your course handbooks. It is your responsibility to ensure that your work is submitted on time. Your submission deadline may be at a time when IT support is unavailable from the University; therefore it is advisable to submit during normal working hours. Should you be unable to submit your work due to technical difficulties only immediately before a deadline outside of working hours you should email the work, an explanation of the issue and screenshots showing the problem faced to your Course Director, copying in your SAS Lead.

All candidates for a degree or other academic distinction of the University must have examiners formally appointed for them. A “Board of Examiners” will include both internal examiners (i.e. members of academic staff) and one or more external examiners who are independent of the University. One of the main responsibilities of external examiners is to ensure that the assessment system is fair and is fairly operated.

On no account may any candidate make direct representation to any examiner in relation to appeals or complaints about their examinations. Any such communication must be made to the Academic Registrar.

Detailed instructions for candidates undertaking written examinations are issued annually in the Senate Handbook on Assessment Rules (Taught Courses) and can be found on the intranet. Each candidate at a written examination must comply with the instructions of the attending invigilator or invigilators, who may expel them from the examination if they fail to do so. A candidate found to have cheated or plagiarised may be disqualified from receiving any award.

In submitting work for assessment or attending an examination, you are declaring yourself as 'fit to sit' (i.e. that you are capable and competent to undertake the assessment and therefore that you have determined that any relevant exceptional circumstances will not adversely impact on your ability to undertake the assessment).

If you do not feel able to attend an examination or complete an assessment for whatever reason, you must raise this in advance with you SAS lead who will advise you accordingly.

Exceptionally, the University will consider requests after examination dates or submission dates, but will not do so if you have completed the assessment (even if you subsequently are deemed to have performed badly). If a request is made after the submission or examination date, and the University does not accept that your circumstances could not have been managed proactively, this may have serious consequences for your ongoing studies.

If a candidate has a specific learning needs and/or disabilities which warrants alternative examination arrangements (special examination facilities, extra time, etc.) it is that candidate's responsibility to make this known well in advance by contacting the Learning Support Officers based in Student Wellbeing and Disability Support, who will co-ordinate all reasonable course adjustments. No allowance can be made if there is inadequate or no notice of the circumstances.

If a candidate is prevented by exceptional circumstances from completing all or part of their assessments, it is the candidate's responsibility to report the matter to their SAS Lead in writing as soon as practicable, who will advise them accordingly.

After completion of written examinations and/or presentation of their thesis or other written work, a candidate must hold themselves available to attend for oral examination or to reply to examiners' questions by correspondence, if and when required, and must for this purpose ensure that Registry has their contact details.

Guidance notes concerning the oral examination of research students can be found in the Senate Handbook on Managing Research Students.

14.4 Feedback

If you are a taught student, you should receive details of your course's assessment and feedback strategy at induction. This should include an overview of how you can expect to be assessed and explain the course's Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs).

In addition, at the beginning of each taught module you should receive an Assessment and Feedback Schedule which will provide details of the assessment methods used in each module, and how you will receive feedback - both summative feedback on your assessed work and formative feedback given to support your learning throughout the module. You should usually expect to receive the marks for your taught assessed work within 20 working days of the submission date.

The marks shown in your VLE are for that piece of assessment, however they do not take account of any capping or other penalties that may be applied to any assessment. Your complete provisional marks will be shown in EVE. All marks are considered provisional until they have been confirmed by a Board of Examiners.

14.5 Research ethics

To ensure our research conforms with appropriate ethical principles and standards, if you are undertaking research as part of your studies, you will need to submit your research proposals for ethical approval through the University's online research ethics approval system (CURES): <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/researchethics/Pages/default.aspx>. The University's policy is that all research projects must get ethical approval before you start to collect data. It is important that you do this to make sure your proposed research conforms with ethical principles and standards and because any thesis or assignment submitted without ethical approval will not be examined. It is University Policy not to grant retrospective ethical approval.

14.6 Research students

Students registered for courses leading to the degrees of PhD, EngD, DBA, or MPhil, and those undertaking MSc courses which consist principally of an individual supervised programme of research (i.e. "MSc by research"), are known as "Research Students". You should note the University's policy on the responsibilities of postgraduate research students and of supervisors, as set out in the Senate Research Students' Handbook.

You should note the importance of completing your work within the period of registration and of submitting their theses on time. You must submit your thesis by the last day of registration. An additional fee is required for any additional period of registration.

You will be sent an email prompt advising that you should give three months' notice in writing before you submit your thesis; forms for this purpose are available from Registry. This helps to ensure that suitable examiners are identified and appointed in good time. Failure to give due notice may result in a delay in the examination of the thesis. If you do not submit at the end of the initial period of registration, you have no automatic right to remain in accommodation that was allocated to you as a normal full-time student, or to have your registration extended, or have your work examined if handed in at a later date. Extensions to either registration (if further research is required) or extensions to the thesis hand-in-date must be applied for in advance.

15 Appeals against Academic Failure

There are appeals procedures that you may use against decisions made by examiners where the effect is that the University degree or other distinction sought cannot be awarded, and no opportunity is given for re-examination. An intention to appeal must be submitted in writing to the Academic Registrar within 20 working days of the notification giving rise to the appeal. Notification of intent to appeal can be submitted in letter format or by email to: appeals@cranfield.ac.uk. Details of the procedures can be found on the intranet.

As procedures for complaint and redress during the study period (which should normally be dealt with as and when they arise) exist (see section 4.6), alleged inadequacy of tuition, supervision or other arrangements during the period of study will not constitute grounds for appeal unless there are exceptional reasons for the matter that do not emerge until after the examination.

The Senate Handbooks that relate specifically to academic appeals are:

- Senate Handbook on Academic Appeals
- Senate Handbook on Academic Misconduct

16 Award of Degrees and Graduation

The award of a degree or other academic distinction is entirely dependent on you satisfying the examiners that the award is merited. No notification of the results for a degree or other academic distinction may be taken as official unless the communication is made by the Academic Registrar or a person clearly acting on their behalf.

A certificate certifying that a degree or other academic distinction has been awarded will be issued at Graduation, following conferral of the award by a board of examiners (for taught awards) or thesis examiners (for research awards). The achievement of an academic distinction is celebrated at the formal Graduation ceremony presided over by the Chancellor and honorary guests.

A transcript (or an electronic record of student achievement) will also be provided at the time that you are notified of your results by Registry. These records will give details of the results for individual modules, in relation to taught courses using the marking scale specified in each course handbook. In addition, it will record the overall result.

Only one copy of each certificate of conferment will be issued, and this should be carefully safeguarded. If a certificate is subsequently damaged, a replacement may be issued provided that the original is returned and due payment made. A change of name subsequent to the conferment of a degree does not normally (without presentation of exceptional circumstances) constitute grounds for the issue of a new certificate.

If you have an outstanding fee debt with the University, you will not receive notification of your award or supporting documentation until your fee debt has been cleared with the University.

17 Membership of Cranfield Alumni

As a student of Cranfield University you are already part of a diverse, dynamic and unique Cranfield community. You also join a vibrant, wide-ranging and distinctive community of nearly 60,000 alumni, across 166 countries, working in diverse industries from food safety and motorsport, to forensics and management consultancy.

The Cranfield University alumni portal (alumni.cranfield.ac.uk) is your gateway to the alumni community and our world-class programme of lifelong services, including:

- an online alumni directory enabling you to research and make contact with fellow alumni

- access to our range of social networks, providing opportunities to interact and engage with alumni.

You will receive your login details for the portal shortly after the beginning of your course. The Alumni Relations and Development Office can be contacted at: alumni@cranfield.ac.uk or visit them in person in Building 111 on the Cranfield campus.

LEARNING SUPPORT AND STUDENT EXPERIENCE

18 Education Services

18.1 Location

The Registry is based in Building 45 on the Cranfield campus, and in 27 Wellington Hall at the Defence Academy, Shrivenham. Student Academic Support (SAS) teams are embedded in each school: each course will have a SAS Lead who is able to assist with your queries. Many of the services offered by Education Services are also offered online through the intranet (see under “Student handbooks”).

18.2 General services

Any matters relating to changes to your registration and studies are normally managed directly with your Student and Academic Support Lead and academic advisers in your School. Education Services is usually involved in communicating to you the formal outcomes and decisions of the University, this includes changes to your registration, and confirmation of your final award and graduation details.

Generally, Education Services also provides to you on request official confirmation of your studies and other official documentation you or your sponsors may need. This includes:

- confirmation statements of your status with the University
- letters for local councils, to apply for council tax exemption
- letters for banks, to assist in creating a new bank account
- other letters for specific purposes on request.

Staff in Education Services also:

- provide you with confirmation for on-site security services, to renew or replace your ID cards
- manage formal student complaints and academic appeals
- formally receive your final thesis submission if you are a research student
- communicate with you about your final award, and provide you with the official academic record (transcript)
- communicate with you about graduation, and provide you with the official award certificate
- provide confirmation of your studies directly to your current or future employers.

18.3 Immigration advice and services

If you are an international student, any advice and guidance, particularly if you are on a student visa, is provided by the Student Immigration and Funding team, based in Education Services at the Cranfield campus.

You must adhere to the immigration rules for your particular visa. You should take responsibility to ensure that you have the correct immigration status which enables you to study in the UK for the full duration of your course.

Under the terms of its sponsorship licence, Cranfield University is required to report changes in circumstance to the UK Government.

If you are registered with the University on a Tier 4 visa, you must comply with all of the conditions of entry into the UK. The University will maintain regular oversight of your studies to review whether you are complying with those conditions. If you were to withdraw or suspend your registration, you are usually required by the UK Government to leave the UK as soon as possible.

Further information can be found on the intranet or by contacting:
studentimmigration@cranfield.ac.uk.

Please note that the immigration rules change regularly and you should always seek advice from the Student Immigration and Funding team in Education Services if you have concerns about your current or future immigration status.

18.4 Funding support

The University expects that you will be sufficiently funded in order to complete your course when you register as a student. Occasionally, however, we know that some students find themselves unforeseeably struggling financially. The University may be able to offer support in this situation, further details about the University's hardship fund is available on the intranet or by emailing studentfunding@cranfield.ac.uk.

19 Student Experience

The University is committed to providing the best experience it can to our students, as demonstrated in our values of Impact, Respect and Community.

The University has a Student Experience professional service unit, which is committed and focused on enhancing the experience of everyone studying at Cranfield – whether you are a taught student, researcher or on a professional/executive programme - and finding innovative and creative ways to have real impact.

Teams within Student Experience focus on education innovation, Library services, welfare, wellbeing, employability and looking at life beyond Cranfield, with long-term career planning.

You have the opportunity to shape the Cranfield experience for yourself and future students. The Student Experience team aim to provide as many opportunities as possible for you to ask questions, provide feedback and have your voice heard. Throughout your time with us we will keep you informed of the impact your feedback is having by providing you with specific information on enhancements or initiatives launched throughout the year.

19.1 Student Wellbeing and Disability Support

During your time at Cranfield you will have access to a wide range of support services. The University's Student Wellbeing and Disability Support service is a central point of contact offering professional and confidential advice on a wide range of academic, welfare and personal issues including; specific support needs (e.g. mental health, learning and disability related adjustments), complaints and appeals, networking with other students and general advice on managing your wellbeing. Dedicated Learning Support Officers in the team coordinate reasonable adjustments for students with disabilities, specific learning difficulties and mental and physical health conditions.

The Student Wellbeing and Disability Support service is based in building 45 on the Cranfield campus, and in Barrington library at Shrivenham and is available to all students. For further information on drop in times, scheduled appointments and ways to contact:

studentsupport@cranfield.ac.uk. Togetherall

Alongside a range of workshops run by Student Wellbeing and Disability Support, Togetherall offers online interactive courses and self-assessment tests to help you manage your emotional wellbeing alongside 24/7 online support. For further details see the intranet or contact: studentsupport@cranfield.ac.uk.

19.2 Student Voice

You have the opportunity to shape the Cranfield experience for yourself and future students. We aim to provide as many opportunities as possible for you to ask questions, provide feedback and have your voice heard. You can feed back in several ways which are explained in more detail on the intranet. In response to your feedback, we have invested in what matters to you.

Throughout your time with us we will keep you informed of the impact your feedback is having by providing you with specific information on enhancements or initiatives launched throughout the year.

All students have the opportunity to contribute feedback through a number of means, such as directly through the online form or email, through student forums, through their student reps, module feedback forms and regular student surveys.

More information on the ways you can contribute to the Cranfield experience can be found on the intranet <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/Students/Pages/Student-Voice.aspx>

20 IT and Library Services

Our IT and Library Services offer high levels of customer service from helpful, knowledgeable staff who are committed to supporting your learning and research. They undertake to deal with all customers openly, fairly, and with empathy for the individual situation. If you are studying part-time or away from the campus, you will find our technology solutions are designed to fully support your academic experience and you will also be offered modified library services to meet your particular needs. Support is also offered to anyone with disabilities, including adjustments to services where appropriate.

You are also offered one-to-one and group training to help you make the most of using both IT and library services.

20.1 IT facilities

Flexible, modern learning spaces suitable for both individual and group study, with high speed campus networking and wireless coverage, contribute to the study environment at Cranfield.

A dedicated IT support desk is your first point of contact to resolve any technical problems you might experience, including support for connecting personal devices to University services.

You are provided with access to facilities such as email, file storage, virtual learning environment, high performance computing facilities, collaboration and learning tools, and access to leading specialist software. These services are accessible from any computer in any location, provided that you are connected to the internet. You will need your Cranfield network username and password in order to login.

Use of IT facilities is subject to the University's Acceptable Use Policy which you will be required to sign as part of the pre-registration process. Further details and a copy of the policy are available on the intranet: <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/it/Pages/default.aspx>.

Shrivenham

IT services at the Defence Academy are split between Cranfield University and SERCO Information and Technology Services (for the Defence Academy). Consequently, whilst the University's IT policies apply here, Shrivenham students are additionally bound by the Defence Academy's security policies.

Further details of these policies are available on the Defence Academy intranet.

20.2 Library services

The libraries aim to provide online content and library stock which evolves to meet the needs of faculty and students. They provide access to a comprehensive range of subject databases, full-text electronic journals, electronic books, and an efficient document delivery service. Where possible, all electronic resources are accessible and searchable online from anywhere. They also hold print collections of books, journals and reports.

Subject areas have a dedicated Information Specialist who will be your main point of contact within the Library. Each Information Specialist understands the course or area of research and has close links with the academic staff in the area in which they specialise. They offer group and one-to-one training tailored to your particular needs to help you get the most out of the library services and resources that are available. The libraries also provide a number of current awareness services to help keep you up-to-date in your academic discipline.

A number of online training resources are accessible 24/7 from any computer. Additionally the libraries offer a number of special training sessions which enable you to take full advantage of all the available Library resources. These sessions will equip you with skills that are not only vital for maximising success on your course but are also valued by employers, so developing these skills will benefit future career progression.

The libraries are not only an important source of information but also play a major role in helping to raise the visibility and impact of research undertaken at Cranfield. Staff members are happy to provide advice and support on the best places to publish your research.

For reasons of safety, please be aware that children under the age of 12 are not allowed in the Kings Norton Library on the Cranfield campus.

Cranfield

There are two libraries on the Cranfield campus: the Kings Norton Library (Building 55) and the Management Information and Resource Centre (MIRC), which is located on the first floor of the School of Management (Building 111). For their rules and regulations please log in to

<https://library.cranfield.ac.uk/knl/about/rules> (Kings Norton Library)

<https://library.cranfield.ac.uk/mirc/about/rules> (MIRC)

Shrivenham

The Barrington Library is located in building 67. For the Library regulations please see <https://library.cranfield.ac.uk/barrington/about/rules>

21 Careers and Employability Service

Our students are sought after by top employers from around the world, in industry and commerce, government organisations and academia.

You are encouraged to proactively engage with the University's Careers team throughout your studies and take advantage of the support available.

Cranfield

Careers resources for SATM and SWEE are located in the Kings Norton Library. Careers resources for SOM are located on the 1st floor of building 111.

Shrivenham

Careers resources are located in the Barrington Library.

It is the priority of the Careers and Employability Service to help you secure the type of role that you aspire to fulfil after completing your studies, whether this means starting your own business or joining a multinational corporation. While you are a student, we will work with you in developing the type of skills and strengths necessary for enhancing your career. We will also help you to identify suitable opportunities and support you throughout the job application process.

You will benefit from:

- a comprehensive and up to date careers website with a full range of information and resources on employability skills development such as CV advice, assessment centres, networking and more than 100 job vacancies at any one time
- individual information, advice and guidance as well as career development workshops, tutorials and online resources to enhance employability skills, in areas such as career decision-making, self-assessment, personal branding and interviews.
- opportunities to meet recruiters and alumni relevant to your field at specialist events such as career fairs and company presentations.

In addition, the support and industry links that Course Directors and Supervisors have will open doors and may help you get a job or further your research opportunities.

Further information can be found on the University Careers and Employability Service intranet pages: <https://intranet.cranfield.ac.uk/yourcareer/Pages/default.aspx> and on our website at: <https://www.cranfield.ac.uk/study/careers-service>.

22 Disability and Learning Support

The University's Learning Support Officers are based in Student Wellbeing and Disability Support at both Cranfield and Shrivvenham and offer information, guidance and support to students with disabilities, physical and mobility impairments, specific learning difficulties and mental and physical health conditions.

Students who have shared their condition or support need on their application form or through EVE, will be contacted by the relevant Learning Support Officer before registration to arrange a meeting to discuss the support available and any assistance required. If you believe you should have been contacted by a Learning Support Officer but have not been, please make contact with Student Wellbeing and Disability Support as soon as possible via studentsupport@cranfield.ac.uk.

Students who require support but have omitted to share a disability or condition on their application form, or students who become disabled or are diagnosed with a condition during the course of their studies, must contact their Learning Support Officer as soon as practicable to discuss their needs.

Learning Support Officers offer students one-to-one consultations, either in person, by phone or online via Zoom or Microsoft Teams, where you can discuss:

- how your disability is affecting your studies
- what adjustments may be made to enable you to get the most out of your studies
- any special examination arrangements that may be appropriate.

In order to receive Learning Support you will need to provide appropriate evidence. Evidence must be in English. Where evidence is not in English it must be accompanied by a translation certified by a Public Notary, accredited translator (member of the Association of Translation Companies) or a member of Cranfield University Staff (as approved by the Student Casework Team or the Head of Registry Services). This will usually be in the form of a medical or specialist report, or a diagnostic assessment report (the Learning Support Officers can help organise dyslexia screening tests and full diagnostic assessments where necessary).

Upon receipt of your evidence the Learning Support Officer will create a Student Support Plan which will document any reasonable adjustments required for you to complete your course. This will then be sent to the relevant staff for the adjustments to be put into place. Academic and support staff will only be sent details of the reasonable adjustments required; details of your condition will not be shared. The Student Support Plan cannot be created without the necessary evidence (nor any adjustments put in place) so it is important that this is provided as soon as possible.

In addition, the Learning Support Officers can provide general advice on dyslexia and other Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLDs). For UK students who are eligible for funding, Learning Support Officers can also assist with completing Disabled Students Allowance application forms. For Apprenticeship students, advice can be given on ESFA funded support.

To arrange an appointment with a Learning Support Officer, contact Student Wellbeing and Disability Support by email (studentsupport@cranfield.ac.uk). Appointments are available in person, by phone or online via Zoom and Microsoft Teams.
