

Spotlight on careers in:

Consulting

> 12 November 2024 — 6-7.30pm

Kicking off our new series, the first session focusses on consulting across all sectors.

Could you offer some time to share your insights, discuss experiences or current sector challenges within your business - we are open to topics such as recruitment, the competition, career paths - hints and tips, building a network or guidance for new postgraduates and experienced alumni looking for a career in consulting.

This could be a short 15-20 minute presentation of your choice, join a panel of industry specialists or showcase your organisation. You could participate in person or remotely, depending on how you'd like to contribute.

Why participate?

Showcase your brand and promote business-focussed opportunities in your sector, build your talent pipeline by meeting and networking with our talented postgraduates and take part in topical discussions about the benefits and challenges of your day-to-day work.

Who will attend?

This careers event will attract MBAs, researchers, and MSc students in areas such as management, consulting, finance and banking, marketing, business data analytics, human resources, procurement and logistics and supply chain.

Find out more about the School of Management courses here: Full-time master's courses

There is no charge to participate. Please get in touch to discuss how you could support one of the sessions.

Contact details:

E: cranfieldcareers@cranfield.ac.uk

