

Statement of service - University Staff

We work closely with staff and departments in order to provide a tailored careers education, information, advice and guidance service that meets the needs of Cranfield students and graduates.

We can support your students by providing generic or course specific careers management development workshops and also individual confidential and impartial careers advice and guidance for students and graduates (for up to three years after leaving Cranfield).

We can:

- support the development of networking links to organisations that can provide opportunities for Cranfield students, regularly updating departments on relevant opportunities, such as job vacancies, employer contacts, presentations and labour market information.
- support staff with the design and development of materials relating to employability and career management skills within the curriculum.
- provide staff with information from the Destination of Leavers in Higher Education (DLHE survey)
- provide a full range of careers information and resources in the Careers Service office and on our website for students use
