4 Health and Safety Update

Professor Tom Stephenson joined Council for this item.

4.1 Health & Safety Management
Paul Bradley is making good progress and is bringing Cranfield up to speed both practically and administratively. Council noted the following during discussion:

- the governance arrangements for health and safety have been enhanced with all local health and safety committee meetings reporting to the Cranfield University Health and Safety Committee meeting;
- roll out of OHSAS18001 continues to schedule. The Professional Service Units will be audited in January 2016 and SATM in July 2016. The higher risk areas are, for example, engine test area, energy facilities, the turbine coating, vehicle and explosive laboratories, but all these areas are under review through the audit processes.
Online Health & Safety training modules continue to be delivered via the Cranfield University Training Environment (CUTE). Reports are sent to Pro-Vice-Chancellors and Directors detailing those staff who have not completed one or more modules. There is an increase in the number of staff who have completed the required training. The University’s Information Systems department is working on an interface between the staff and student databases in order that the CUTE training modules are made available to students also.

4.2 HSE prosecution
Executive members of the University met with Counsel on 8 December 2016 to finalise the University’s defence prior to the Court hearing on 23 December 2016. Counsel advised that there is a risk of adjournment of the sentencing until the New Year which the University is working actively with Counsel to avoid. The University has a full communications plan in place and Council are assured that key strategic partners have already been contacted.

Professor Stephenson withdrew from the Council meeting.

5 Chief Executive’s Report
The Chief Executive and Vice-Chancellor (CE&VC) introduced his report and commented on the effects on Cranfield of the 2015 Comprehensive Spending Review, the National Security Strategy and the Strategic Defence and Security Spending Review published w/c 23 November 2015.

6 Report from the University Executive

Professor Simon Pollard joined Council for this item.

6.1 Annual Environmental Report
Council discussed the annual environmental report and noted the importance for the University to set and achieve challenging environmental targets and to demonstrate its success to all stakeholders. The impact of the Carbon Management Plan continues to increase, with savings of £9.6m against business as usual. With the increasing amount of construction work being undertaken across the Cranfield site, Council were assured that all contractors conform to the highest levels of environmental performance. Council approved the Annual Environmental Report for publication on the University’s website.

Professor Pollard withdrew from the meeting.

Mrs Maddie McGowan and Mr Ollie Leggett joined Council for this item.

6.2 Brand
Council welcomed the presentation on the new brand personality and brand architecture. In discussion, Council explored the research undertaken during development of the brand package and commented that the overall look and feel leans more towards industry engagement than to students. Council recognised the new brand is about strengthening core messages and is as much about emphasis on cultural change supported by a new Visual Identity. Council expressed a view that, in order to achieve this cultural change, the description of character should not be compressed to the extent that it becomes too generic in nature. Council congratulated colleagues for the excellent and encouraging work that has been undertaken, recognising that there is much work to do when rolling-out the new brand. Council endorsed the brand going forward.

Mrs McGowan and Mr Leggett withdrew from the meeting.
